SOLONS CHIDE WALLACE FOR PURGE SPEECH

SYSTEM AKIN TO HITLER'S SEEN IN PROPOSAL

Washington, March 19. (AP)—Charges that Henry A. Wallace favors a political "purge" system akin to Hitler's or Stalin's were hurled in Congress today as legislators hotly opposed his proposal to expel dissidents from the Republican and Democratic parties.

The commerce secretary, in a speech before the Women's Democratic club yesterday declared senators and representatives who oppose their own parties on fundamental issues should be barred from seeking re-election on their party tickets.

Senator Johnston (D-S.C.) started a discussion in the senate by reading a newspaper account of the address in which Wallace called for party discipline in such major questions as the British loan, foreign relations, full employment, and atomic energy.

Silly, Says Caphart. Wallace had said that Stalin issued a "challenge to democracy in his speech of March 6 when he said democracy has 'booms, busts and wars'."

House Majority Leader John W. McCormack of Massachusetts and Rep. A. J. Clegg of Illinois, House Republican whip, called the suggestion "impractical." They said it

Boss Of Nazi Camp Admits Gassing Of 2,000,000 Victims

Berlin, March 19. (AP)—Rudolf Hoess, commandant of the infamous Oswiecim slave camp who was arrested March 8, has admitted gassing 2,000,000 victims on direct orders of Heinrich Himmler, British authorities said tonight.

Hoess' confession said he transformed three peasant homes near the camp into air-tight gas chambers. After the victims had been gassed, their bodies were cremated and interned were forced to crush any remaining bones with wooden clubs. What was left was thrown into the Vistula river.

Later, more permanent gas chambers were built.

The confession said the victims were mostly Jews.

Call For Seamen Gets Big Response

Detroit, March 19. (AP)—The plea of the United States Employment Service for Great Lakes seamen has brought an overwhelming response.

State Director Edward L. Cushman said jobs involving inexperienced help were oversubscribed by a wide margin. Some of the skilled jobs—such as firemen, oilers, able-bodied seamen and deck officers—are still open, he added.

Hershey Asks Congress To Extend Draft

Washington, March 19. (AP)—Selective service appealed today for extension of the draft indefinitely and spurred along a congressional drive for action.

On the heels of a letter from Maj. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, draft director, military committees of Senate and House ordered immediate, closed-door hearings on the law which is due to expire May 15.

Hershey, writing the House committee, was reported by members to have recommended:

1. No time limit on extension, but provision for termination by presidential order or joint congressional action.

2. Length of service, domestic and overseas, of men inducted in the future be limited to 18 months. The present law permits retention of inductees until six months after the war is declared ended.

3. No change in present draft ages, 18 through 45. Under executive order the top age for inductees is 26 at present.

Time Limit Favored. Chairman May of the House committee announced hearings will start Thursday morning with army heads as first witnesses.

Simultaneously, Chairman Elbert Thomas (D-Utah) set the stage for Senate military committee hearings starting probably tomorrow. He said he expected Secretary of War Robert P. Patterson to be the first witness, followed by General of the Army Dwight D. Eisenhower, Secretary of the Navy James Forrestal, and Secretary of State James F. Byrnes.

Chairman Thomas had suggested an extension only until July 1, which would permit selective service to induct thousands of students deferred until the end of the high school year.

Chairman May has introduced legislation for a six-month extension and has proposed that the maximum age for inductions be lowered to 30 years and the minimum raised to 21, with all fathers exempted.

TRUMAN GIVES REPORT ON UNO

Full Support Of U. S. Pledged To Peace Preservation

Washington, March 19. (AP)—President Truman accounted to Congress today on the first work of the United Nations Organization and pledged all-out support to the peace preserving principles of its charter.

By doing its utmost to perfect the charter, he said, the United States will "give new and full expression to the meaning of 'America' to the world."

Mr. Truman passed along to Congress a report by Secretary of State Byrnes on the American delegation's first activities in the United Nations assembly in London.

Asserting that this nation's part in setting up the institutions provided in the UNO charter "is vital to all Americans," the president's message said:

"The United States supports the charter. The United States supports the fullest implementation of the principles of the charter. The United States seeks to achieve the purposes of the charter. And the United States seeks to perfect the charter as experience lights the way."

"To do less than our utmost in this essential effort of peace-loving nations, whatever may be the obstacles and difficulties, would be a betrayal of the trust of those who fought to win the opportunity to have a world at peace with security and well-being, for all. To do our utmost will be to give new and full expression to the meaning of 'America' to the world."

Secretary Byrnes' report covered the first session of the general assembly, which was chiefly organizational.

"The United Nations is now a going concern," Byrnes declared in his letter of transmission, dated March 1.

Street Car Homes Planned In Detroit

Detroit, March 19. (AP)—The possibilities of converting more than 100 obsolete DSR street cars into temporary housing units are under consideration by city officials.

Several large cities already have used this means to help alleviate the housing shortage.

A dissent came, however, from Charles F. Edgcomb, director-secretary of the Detroit housing commission and local housing expert, who commented:

"The use of converted street cars for dwelling purposes seems to be an unnecessary low point even in the midst of a housing shortage."

THIS THE ANSWER?—Charles Schrader of Cornell holds what he believes is the answer to the rapidly disappearing prairie and prairie chicken flocks in this area. The answer, he says, is a large hawk which is wintering in the Upper Peninsula, and is killing game birds. Although he has lived in the county for 35 years, Schrader says he has observed the hawks only for the last three winters. The hawk was caught by Schrader Friday in a wolf trap and measures four feet from tip to tip and is 23 inches from tail to beak.

Runaway Heiress And Truck Driver Friend Set Free In Detroit

Detroit, March 19. (AP)—A waiver of prosecution today ended 20 hours of police custody for blonde Suzanne Froedtert, 16-year-old Milwaukee heiress, and a truck driver companion.

A short time later the two went their separate ways—Suzanne to a waiting limousine and chartered plane for an undisclosed rendezvous with her parents, while her acquaintance of a week, Ollie J. Williams, 24, walked the few blocks to a relative's home in suburban Highland Park.

The first chapter of the episode came to a close at the same hour early Monday morning when the runaway schoolgirl was found there with Williams, ending a week-long nationwide search. They said they met on a bus en route from Madison, Wis., to Detroit.

Both were taken to the Highland Park jail pending the arrival of representatives of the girl's parents, now vacationing in Miami Beach. Suzanne's father, Kurtis Froedtert, heads a large Milwaukee grain and milk firm.

Legal technicalities under which the girl was held were soon cleared away after both she and Williams made statements to Prosecutor Gerald K. O'Brien this morning. She was released after a brief return to the prosecutor's office for the waiver.

Williams, likewise held without formal charge, was detained in his cell as the Froedtert family representatives—Attorney Joseph E. Rapkin and Public Relations Counsellor Joseph W. Hicks—called at the jail for the girl's personal belongings.

Young Suzanne, freshly attired with a change of clothing, remained in the limousine, shielded from photographers by Froedtert's secretary, Adelaide Schmidt. She waived gaily to newsmen and police officials, however, as the car pulled away.

The southern-born truck driver was not taken to the jail.

A plant official said the management would meet with the union "at their request."

Ingram estimated the vote to stay on strike at approximately 1,500 to 2. The national settlement, he said, was approved by all but about 50 of the union members.

Local 652 at the Oldsmobile and Olds forge plants ratified the national agreement and settlement of local grievances last Sunday, but Olds officials said a back-to-work movement must await the end of the Fisher dispute.

ICEFIELD HALTS IN SAGINAW BAY

Menace To Cottages On Beach Abated As Wind Lets Up

Bay City, Mich., March 19. (AP)—Fears that a second movement of ice floes in the Riemo and Killarney Beach region might duplicate the damage caused 10 days ago subsided tonight as the icefield remained at a standstill.

The wind, estimated at a velocity of 15-20 miles an hour early tonight, has caused no change in position of the huge cakes in the last 24 hours. Observers said, however, that the windrows were well organized to move in and if the north by northeast wind should pick up in velocity heavy damage would follow.

Moved by a 22-mile wind, the ice field started moving yesterday and caused minor damage to at least two cottages.

Dwellers, apprehensive that the new influx might duplicate the previous havoc in which 60 cottages were damaged, immediately took precautionary measures. So swiftly did the floes move yesterday that persons in the vicinity were unaware of the advance until they heard the sounds of ice cracking.

LOCAL ISSUES DELAY ENDING OF GM STRIKE

CORPORATION ASKS SETTLEMENT TO BE COMPLETE

Detroit, March 19. (AP)—General Motors corporation today told the CIO United Auto Workers that "until we receive notification from the International Union that the strike is ended in all our plants, we will have to assume that the strike continues."

The corporation, acting shortly after the UAW notified it that the rank and file of GM workers had approved the national strike settlement, declared in a telegram to Walter P. Reuther, UAW vice president:

"We are in receipt of your telegram of March 19 in which you state  the settlement of March 13 'has been ratified by a majority vote of local unions' but that 'in certain unions the membership has voted to remain on strike until a satisfactory settlement occurs with respect to their local demands.'"

"In keeping with the agreement which we entered into with your union officers, your telegram should officially end the strike in all GM plants."

"Until we receive notification from the International Union that the strike is ended in all our plants, we will have to assume that the strike continues and that the resumption of production will be delayed until that time."

"You are aware that our manufacturing is so geared that we cannot start production in a part of our plants with others still out on strike."

"No Time To Quibble." The corporation's statement was signed by Harry W. Anderson, GM vice president.

Reuther, in a reply telegraphed to Anderson tonight, asserted, "this no time to quibble over procedural matters."

The union statement continued, "the officers of the UAW-CIO and the top GM negotiating committee had a clear understanding with the corporation that the strike settlement agreement covered only national issues and that upon ratification of the national strike agreement, certain local unions might vote to remain on strike because their plant managements had failed to settle local issues satisfactorily."

The UAW official asked the corporation "to advise local management to enter into continuous negotiation with local shop committees until plant issues are settled," and added, "it is a fact that many of the corporation's plants can begin operations independently of any other unit. There is no justification for failure to resume production without further delay in such units."

Ratification of the peace terms reached on the 13th day of the walkout of 175,000 men was announced as a "90 per cent acceptance" by Reuther, leader of the

Postoffice Refuses To Deliver Films Cut Off By Strike

Detroit, March 19. (AP)—Postoffice officials today declined to deliver films to 50 theaters whose supply was cut off Friday by a strike of 130 film handlers and inspectors.

Frank C. Middell, general superintendent of mails, said the films which had been mailed special delivery would remain at the Roosevelt Park Annex where theater owners could pick them up.

Middell said his stand was upheld by First Assistant Postmaster General Jesse M. Donaldson at Washington.

"We're going to stay neutral in this strike," Middell asserted, adding, "if we have been delivering films to the movie theaters we will continue to do so, but if we have not been doing it right along, we will not do it now."

Postoffice officials pointed out that under the law, the postmaster cannot refuse to accept anything that is available but that he is not obligated to deliver the articles.

Auto Equipment Checkups Planned

Lansing, March 19. (AP)—Law enforcement officials in 18 Michigan cities today approved plans for a automobile equipment check-up drive starting May 15.

The campaign, sponsored by the International Association of Police Chiefs, the State Safety Council has as its core a check of brakes, lights, horn, tires and windshield wiper on any auto stopped for a moving traffic violation or for an accident.

Soft Coal Miners And Operators Get Down To Business

BY HAROLD W. WARD

Washington, March 19. (AP)—After a "war or peace" ultimatum from John L. Lewis, Bituminous Coal Operators and Miners got down to actual bargaining on a new contract today.

Each side professed readiness to negotiate on the other's demands. "We want to make a contract," said Charles O'Neill, the operators' spokesman.

As the week of open meetings gave way to closed sessions, a committee of six operators, two alternates and two technicians and a similar number of miners was appointed to attempt to write a new agreement before the present one

CRASH OF ARMY C-47 KILLS 26

Mountain Plane Tragedy Occurs 40 Miles West Of Reno

Truckee, Calif., March 19. (AP)—Twenty-six Army-Navy men were killed today by the explosion and crash of a C-47 transport plane in the snow-covered Sierras north of Lake Tahoe and another seven men may have died in a B-29 bomber crash near Livermore, 150 miles southwest of Truckee.

More than 20 of the bodies already have been counted at the C-47 crash scene, a heavily wooded sector difficult to reach.

Wreckage of a plane, which a private pilot said he felt certain was the missing Honolulu-to-San Francisco B-29, was sighted late today near Livermore.

Some witnesses peering through snow from a distance thought they saw the C-47 blow up in the air, with the fuselage landing near Hobart Mills, seven miles north of Truckee.

Wreckage of a plane, believed to be the missing B-29, was reported at Merced, Calif., late today by a private airplane pilot.

He reported to the Castle Field Army air base that the wreckage was in the hills above Livermore.

The B-29, flying from Honolulu with seven persons reported aboard, was traced last by radio communication as possibly over the Sacramento Valley at a point roughly 100 miles west of the Sacramento Valley at a point roughly 100 miles of the C-47 crash scene. The big Flying Fortress, of the type which bombed Japan in the war, had engine trouble.

Meat Black Market Causes Shortage Of Beef For Midwest

(By The Associated Press)

Slaughter of beef cattle took another nosedive yesterday (Monday) at principal midwestern markets and serious meat shortages for some areas were predicted by both retailers and packers.

Major packing companies reported their kill had been reduced materially for several weeks because of inability to buy cattle at prices that will allow them to make a profit under Office of Price Administration ceilings.

At Chicago an industry spokesman said the "Big Four" companies—Armour, Swift, Wilson, and Cudahy—bought less than 1,000 of the 15,000 head of cattle in the yards yesterday. The large packers said they could not compete with black market buyers who do not observe the OPA price regulations. Eastern buyers are taking a large percentage of offerings, they said.

A black market in meat continues probably worse now than ever before and the "situation" is getting away from the OPA, Thomas E. Wilson, chairman of Wilson & Co., told a stockholders' meeting yesterday. These illegitimate operators are able to make an average profit of $50 a head, he declared.

Wife And Daughters Shot In Argument; Man Kills Himself

Elizabeth N. J., March 19. (AP)—Joseph Shellbrick, 35, shot himself tonight after fatally wounding his wife Mary, 36, and stepdaughter, Mary Lou Mullin, 19, and shooting another stepdaughter, Betty Mullin, 18, City Detectives William J. Connelly and George Marczak said.

The detectives said Shellbrick's body was found lying in the open doorway of a garage at the rear of his home, while his wife and her elder daughter were found on a neighboring doorstep to which they had fled after being shot.

Both died shortly after the shooting in Elizabeth General hospital, where the younger daughter was in critical condition.

The detectives said that from stories told them by neighbors and members of the family, Shellbrick, an electrician at the Standard Oil Company's Bayway Refinery, started shooting after a family argument over the girls' practice of hanging their clothes on the door between the living room and the sun parlor.

Both died shortly after the shooting in Elizabeth General hospital, where the younger daughter was in critical condition.

The commission attributed most of the increase to the 10 per cent tax on liquor which sent into effect last summer although there were approximately 20,000 more cases sold last month than in February, 1945.

REVENUE ON LIQUOR INCREASES OVER 1945

Lansing, March 19. (AP)—The State Liquor Control Commission today reported revenue from liquor sales during February was $9,516,425, an increase of $1,572,941 over February, 1945.

EFFORT MADE TO OUST REDS IN OIL NATION

TROOPS INTERFERE IN GOVERNMENT. ENVOY CHARGES

BY JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

Washington, March 19. (AP)—Oil-rich Iran defied a Russian warning today and appealed to the United Nations Security Council for help in getting Soviet troops out of its territory.

It asked for a "just determination" of the case, emphasizing that Russia was violating a written agreement, and that Moscow agents were interfering in Iran's affairs.

The action, taken here by Ambassador Hussein Ali on orders from Premier Qavam Es Sultaneh, shoved Iran's dispute with her big neighbor toward a climax at the council's meeting in New York next week.

The appeal threw into doubt the continued existence of Qavam's government, since the Soviet charge d'affaires in Moscow had warned him last week that any such move to take the case before the Security Council would be considered as an "unfriendly act."

Treaty Violated. The Russian warning was reported in official dispatches to Washington. However, some diplomats believe that the full publicity given Iran's action may be a strong protection to Qavam.

In his appeal to the council which was actually filed last night but circulated to council members only today Ala made these two charges:

1. Russia is keeping troops in Iran beyond last March 2, contrary to the Soviet-British-Iranian treaty of January, 1942, which provided that foreign troops should be withdrawn in six months after the end of the war.

The war ended with the Japanese surrender last Sept. 2.

2. Russia is "continuing to interfere in the internal affairs of Iran through the medium of Soviet agents, officials and armed forces."

Ala argued that such things violate the charter of the United Nations and the Roosevelt-Churchill-Stalin declaration at Tehran in the autumn of 1943 pledging support of Iranian sovereignty.

Meanwhile, reports continued to arrive from Iran telling of Soviet troop movements and the long-range Russian objective remained as obscure as before. Evidently a few top officials here believe that all the Russians want or intend to accomplish by the current maneuvers is a slice of control over Iran's rich oil deposits.

Kelly Gets Gift Of Japanese Saber

Lansing, March 19. (AP)—A Japanese saber, the gift of Brig. Gen. Robert B. Mc Bride, Jr., commanding general of the 32nd (Red Arrow) division at Fukuoka Kyushu, was received by Governor Kelly today.

Paying tribute to Michigan men serving in the 32nd division, General Mc Bride wrote Kelly that the sabers were a symbol of victory and "a memorial to those who remained behind so that our armies could move ahead."

NEW GLAUCOMA REMEDY FOUND

Chemical That Failed As War Gas Helps Patients

Atlantic City, N. J.—A chemical that failed as a war gas nevertheless held the spotlight at the meetings of the Federation of American Societies for Experimental Biology here. The reason: Trials on patients show that it may help those with the blinding eye disease, glaucoma, and may lead to better understanding of and treatment for the muscle weakness disease, myasthenia gravis, and perhaps other ailments involving nerve and muscle chemistry.

In more than a score of patients with glaucoma, who had not been helped by physostigmine or pilocarpine, the usual medicines for this disease, the war gas chemical kept tension in the eyes normal and prevented further loss of visual fields. Dr. Irving H. Leopold and Dr. Julius H. Comroe, Jr., of the University of Pennsylvania School of Medicine reported.

The chemical is di-isopropyl fluorophosphate, called DEF for short. Early in the war British chemists explored its action because its effect in contracting the pupils of the eyes led them to hope it might interfere with enemy marksmanship. This proved a false lead, but when scientists in our own Chemical Warfare Service at Edgewood Arsenal studied DEF they learned facts about its effects on body chemistry which led them to ask doctors at certain medical centers to try its value for patients.

Some of the 76 glaucoma-affected eyes were not helped by DEF or any other medicine. This occurred in 16 instances. In another 24, DEF gave the same results as the two medicines commonly used for this eye ailment. But 36 eyes were helped by DEF when other medicines failed.

Doctor Describes French Executions, Bodies In Quicklime

BY MEL MOST

Paris, March 19 (AP)—Dr. Marcel Petiot, self-described resistance leader, promised at his trial today that if he were acquitted of the 27 murder charges against him he would name other members of the resistance group which he said performed the "executions."

Earlier the swarthy little doctor, hunched over the rail of the defendant's box during five hours of questioning, admitted that he participated in a "certain number" of slayings but denied taking part in any of the 27 for which he is on trial.

He gave an animated account of how his so-called resistance group allegedly abducted gestapo informers in the streets of Paris and killed them at his house in the Rue Lesueur.

The second day of the interrogation went through the subject of the crimes in general and ended in the midst of the first specific charge, involving a woman who disappeared after telling her family she was going to see Petiot.

Petiot said he took part in none of the particular slayings cited but that he helped dispose of "executed" bodies left in his home.

A visible shudder ran through the section of the court set aside for relatives of the victims when Petiot calmly said he had obtained quicklime to dispose of the bodies by telling the purveyor it was "to kill bedbugs."

Mother Acquitted Of Drowning Baby Is Found Insane

DETROIT, March 19 (AP)—A Detroit mother, charged with drowning her infant son in a bathtub last April, today was found not guilty of first degree murder by reason of temporary insanity.

The jury of ten women and two men deliberated only briefly before finding for Mrs. Esther Priehs, 30, whose husband was serving overseas with the Army at the time of his son's death.

Recorder's Judge W. McKay Skelton pointed out that Michigan law required that a person freed of a murder charge because of insanity be committed to an asylum for life and set Tuesday for hearing on a defense argument that Mrs. Priehs now is sane.

Defense Counsel Thomas F. Chawke said that Mrs. Priehs was found insane by a psychiatric board shortly after the death of the infant, but that she was adjudged sane following examinations in October.

The defendant wept on the shoulder of her husband, former GI Anthony, when the verdict was announced. She was accused of slaying the child during a period of despondency.

Inside Nazi Spy Nest

Himmler Takes Over As Wagner's Aide,
Fraulein Fischer Attempts Suicide

BY NEA FOREIGN SERVICE
Stockholm (NEA)—March 13, 1945, was a black day for the Nazi spy gang in Stockholm.

The news from Germany had been bad for weeks. Swedish authorities were getting more suspicious by the day. Mutual distrust and denunciations were spreading through the Legation and its multiple annexes. Whispered charges of treason kept everybody on edge.

Herr X, at his code teleprinter, is putting through a routine report from "Berta" that "there are no more B-29 units in Great Britain. An experimental group, stationed for a few weeks in England in the fall of 1944, has left again, destination unknown."

Suddenly a bit of electrifying news is dropped on his table—an urgent report from Stockholm, to be sent to an A-1 priority. Herr X is so flustered he even forgets to call Berlin for the usual exchange of the teleprinter code, which by order should be done between every two messages. The message, handed him for immediate transmission reads:

"Fraulein Fischer, formerly of Bureau Wagner, attempted suicide on Monday. She jumped into the water. The reason is believed to be a Nazi Party court-martial pending against her at the demand of Wagner, because she sent information on him to another government agency in Berlin, without his knowledge. She was pulled out of the water and taken to the Serafin hospital. Now she is being treated at the nerve clinic of the Karolinska hospital. It has not yet been possible to make contact with her."

Here, in a flash, was exposed the whole sordid story of constant disloyalty and mutual espionage, which was so characteristic of the Nazi regime and, in particular, of its rival intelligence services.

Fraulein Fischer, a 35-year-old redhead, was for a long time one of Wagner's most trusted assistants. She was his confidential cashier-keeper of the spy accounts. Yet all the while she had been informing against her boss in reports to "another government agency"—presumably the "Abwehr."

Berlin immediately comes back with an urgent request for details. "Pandur," already in charge of what is left of Bureau Wagner, is to handle the matter.

Two days later, he has his report ready, which contains the following:

"1. The accounts kept by Fraulein Fischer have been checked by me on March 13 and were found in good order.

"2. As regards the reason for her suicide attempt, the following passage from a private letter found by us is of importance: 'After two days full of agony I have made up my mind to take the consequences of my imprudent behavior. I am going rapidly towards insanity. I simply cannot stand it any longer, since I have no rest either day or night!'

For the next few days, the air waves between Germany and Sweden were filled with queries, instructions, and reports on the Fischer affair. Her suicide attempt, and her mental condition obviously were of the greatest concern to all the higher-ups in the spy business, for she knew a great deal—far too much for comfort.

Repeated attempts were made to "get in touch" with Fraulein Fischer at the hospital. But the Swedish authorities, which by that time were well aware of what was going on, had placed her under strict surveillance, allowing nobody to get near.

Finally, "Pandur" advises Berlin to drop the matter for the time being "in order not to focus the attention of interested circles even more on the person of Fraulein Fischer."

But the case continues to reverberate both in Germany and in Sweden. The Swedish police are investigating the matter and the Nazis are panicky at the thought of what the hysterical patient at Karolinski hospital might reveal.

A flood of urgent communications is put through by Herr X to Berlin. Some are addressed to "Egmont" and his assistant "Otto" (identity unknown). Others are slugged "for Senior"—code name for Heinrich Himmler, the dread Gestapo chief.

Time and again the query is sent, "Can one not meet Senior?" But Himmler is silent. The only sign of life from the Gestapo leader is a peremptory order to liquidate the heavily compromised "Bureau Wagner," and its annex "Bureau Finke."

Finally the Legation decides to send on of its top men, Councillor Dr. Karl Georg Pfeleiderer, as special courier to Berlin. "Hasso" radios:

"Advise Egmont that Consul General Pfeleiderer arrives tomorrow, March 19, by Luftthansa plane and wishes to see Egmont on urgent business. Pfeleiderer will stay at the Adlon hotel."

What the two Nazi chiefs decided to do about the "Fischer case" is obliquely revealed in a directive of March 23 to "Pandur," referring to his report of March 15 and a subsequent message:

"Orders from Senior:—Benevolent, considerate, and calming treatment. Comradely care and solicitude. Promise recreation at desired place or in the Reich. Not a word about possible orders to return. Panic and defection ('Absprung') must be avoided."

This is typical Himmler style, and typical Gestapo cunning. The plan, of course, was first to reassure the sick woman, then to make her leave Sweden on the pretext of going to a place of recreation where the Gestapo could get at her, and finally to liquidate her.

The scheme didn't work out, though. Fraulein Fischer stayed in Sweden until after the surrender of Germany, closely guarded by the police. A few days later, another Legation Councillor, Heinz von Gienanth, was rushed to Berlin by air with dispatches for "Egmont" and "Otto." The teletype message announcing his departure stated "Gienanth will deliver both letters in Senior's ante-room."

The message also gave notice that the dispatch for Otto would contain information regarding the attitude of the GMD ("Geheimer Militair Dienst" or Secret Military Service) of the host country, Sweden.

This indicates that by this time Sweden's own intelligence service had taken charge of the sensational Fischer affair. The message specified that this information was of an urgent nature and was to be brought to the attention of Senior—Himmler—personally.

Presently the Fischer case, though still continuing to reverberate, was pushed into the background by fresh developments connected with the impending collapse of Nazi Germany. On April 9, however, a long dispatch from "Pandur" concerning the financial position of the Legation was followed by this interesting note:

"Memo—When I look over Fraulein Fischer's accounts the cash on hand amounted to 36,000 Swedish Kronor and $20,000 in U. S. currency."

long and costly strike. He said locals representing 154,400 workers had accepted the terms.

Blocking a resumption of work in at least 21 plants were local disputes which were still unsettled. The UAW-CIO international has promised to support unions in such plants if they wished to remain on strike.

Operations Limited
GM's plants, which turn out 50 per cent of the nation's automobile production, remained closed or in only limited operation today for the 119th day.

The approved peace terms applied only to national issues, with local disputes left for settlement on the local level. The national settlement included the 18½ cents an hour pay increase plus a corporation promise to adjust pay scale inequities.

The UAW-CIO gave no breakdown of the ratification vote.

Only Fisher Body Local 239 in Baltimore voted against the national ratification, the union said.

The national ratification was announced to General Motors by Reuther in a communication to Anderson.

"Local unions which have satisfactorily settled their local demands now stand ready to return to work upon call by their local managements," Reuther said.

In "certain other local unions," Reuther added, the memberships voted to remain on strike "until a satisfactory settlement occurs with respect to their local demands." He did not identify these locals.

COOL JUDGMENT NEEDED
New York, March 19. (AP)—Secretary Wallace tonight called for "a clear statement of the facts" back of "the recent actions of the Soviet government which have been so disturbing * * * and which feed the current talk of war."

Counseling cool judgment on our part, the commerce department head said we need a better understanding of the reasons for Russia's behavior. He noted that she disclaims aggressive intentions.

Wallace, who spoke at a dinner honoring W. Averill Harriman, retired ambassador to Russia, said the Soviets "may feel that the only road to peace and security is for them to give the capitalist nations tit for every tat."

"They have gone further and have started giving their tats first. They are out to make every boundary secure. They fear capitalist encirclement. They are hungry for science and machines and feel that time is short to prepare for a possible capitalist-provoked war."

But granting that Russia is wrong on every count, Wallace went on, "I still say that the U. S. has nothing to gain but on the contrary everything to lose by beating the tom-toms against Russia."

Teen-Ager Crime On Increase, Says Summary Of FBI

Washington, March 19 (AP)—The FBI reported that crime increased 12.4 percent in 1945 over 1944, with teen-agers responsible for "a substantial portion" of it.

The upsurge in crime was the biggest since 1930.

Highlights of the report: "Age 17 stood out as the predominating age among arrested persons and age 18 was second." Persons under 21 committed 30.1 percent of the rapes, 33.5 percent of the larcenies, 35.2 percent of the robberies, 49.9 percent of the burglaries and 61.1 percent of the auto thefts.

During 1945 one major offense was committed on the average every 20.1 seconds. A rape, felonious assault or killing occurred every 6.4 minutes.

Every day on the average 149 persons were robbed, 662 automobiles stolen, 881 places burglarized and 2,371 other types of thefts were committed.

An estimated 1,565,541 major crimes were committed in 1945, an increase of 171,886 over 1944. In addition, several million lesser offenses were committed.

Robberies went up 23.6 percent, auto thefts 18.7 percent, burglaries 17 percent, negligent manslaughter 16.2 percent and murders 10.1 percent.

Reflecting what the FBI called "the improved economic condition of the nation," the value of the loot in the average robbery rose 29.2 percent from $113 in 1944 to $146 in 1945.

Pay Raises Planned By Detroit Edison

Detroit, March 19 (AP)—The Detroit Edison Company will return to a 40-hour work week about April 1 and then will give wage increases to all hourly and weekly paid employees in line with the national pattern.

Prentiss M. Brown, chairman of the board, told stockholders at their annual meeting today.

Satisfactory negotiations with labor on both matters have been completed, Brown said.

Stockholders reelected four directors whose terms have expired. They were Reuben B. Crispell, Charles T. Fisher, Sr., Ralph T. McElvanny and Brown.

A dividend of 30 cents was declared by the board, payable to stockholders of record on March 29.

Doolittle Accepts Job Of Checking On U. S. Citizen's Army

Fort Worth, Tex., March 19 (AP)—Lt. Gen. James H. Doolittle, on terminal leave from the Army Air Forces, said here today he will accept appointment from Secretary of War Patterson to head a panel inquiring into the ills of the Army's officer-enlisted men relationship.

Patterson yesterday appointed a board of six former servicemen whose ranks ranged from general to sergeant to hold hearings and recommend any changes necessary for "building a citizen's army."

Congress authorized establishment of a separate Army engineer corps in March, 1902.

Colorful Kim Sigler Is Mentioned For Governor

Lansing, Mich.—An "A-bomb" to top all possibilities for political debate and upset every political pushcart in sight—Kim Sigler for Governor, on both top tickets, with his platform "a cleanup of the whole messy mess."

It could be done. In Michigan a man may run in the primary on more than one party ticket. If he should get two nominations, he merely picks the party he wishes to carry his name in the general election.

Colorful Kim has been stripped of his State graft grand jury job as Carr-appointed special prosecutor, and he might be just the man for such a political bomb. Always a Republican, he has run for public office on both tickets. It was a strategy move, inspired by Democrats and Republicans, that put him on the Democratic ticket.

Persons who think the ousted prosecutor would have carried the State's grand jury job to completion better than anyone else include members of both major parties—plus innumerable independents.

"Clean government" may become a prime political issue if the grand jury fails to achieve under its Siglerless setup, all that crusading citizens believe could, and should, have been accomplished. No one could speak with greater authority about "dirty government" than Sigler, who has exposed much of its rottenness.

On Both Tickets?

He would appear to be a "natural" in a campaign to clean it to the core. His "sense of smell," he believes, set off what he branded as the "Senate Smear" scheme that cost his job.

Sigler for Governor on both tickets is too much to expect, although he has been pressed by Republicans and Democrats and independents to fly both major flags.

The cold shoulder he turned to political pleas, however, has begun to warm up, under public pressure. He has been swamped with letters, telephone calls, telegrams and personal appeals.

They came at a time when he was preparing to return to Battle Creek to practice law.

Now he's sitting back to think things over, and see how the pressure piles up.

If the demand continues, you can expect the fiery fellow, proud of his record but stung by his ouster, to announce that "he's in."

On both tickets? No . . . as a Republican!

Error by Brown
For many months' Lieut.-Gov. Vernon J. Brown, veteran office-holder and heir-apparent to Gov. Kelly's crown, had figured he would get the Republican nomination without much—if any—opposition. So had the Kelly cabinet, which figured that the 72-year-oldster should round out his political career with the State's top job.

They figured wrong, however. They overlooked Detroit's Mayor Jeffries.

They didn't foresee "the wrench" that was thrown into the works by Brown's own State Senate . . . the wrench that stripped the gears, blew Sigler out of the State grand jury, and Jeffries into the race for the gubernatorial nomination.

Crowley Predicts Football Truce In Two Rival Leagues

Cleveland, March 19 (AP)—James (Sleepy Jim) Crowley, commissioner of the new All America Football Conference, predicted today the National Football League eventually would "declare a truce" and permit its champions to play a pro gridiron "world series" with titlists of the new circuit.

Crowley, conferring with Head Coach Paul Brown of the All America Cleveland Browns, said the National League's "truce" might not be declared this year.

"I believe that all the National League is waiting for * * * is to see how we draw at the gate," he added.

"As for that, I believe the Cleveland Browns, for instance, will attract more fans in their opening game than the National League ever drew here in the history of its organization."

Crowley said nearly 100 former National League players had signed with the new league, but declared the All America Conference did not encourage "contract jumping." He asserted the suit threatened by the Detroit Lions against the All America New York Yankees for the signing of Frankie Sinkwich was "mere ballyhoo."

The Yankees signed the ex-Georgia star "only after the advice of attorneys," said Crowley, "and I am sure the Lions have no legal hold on Sinkwich."

Navy Rescues 14 On Drifting Hulk Of Mexican Ship

Mexico City, March 19 (AP)—The naval department reported tonight the rescue of 14 survivors aboard the drifting hulk of the Mexican steamer Rio Santiago, which was disabled 18 miles off Mazatlan during a storm last Friday.

The hulk was sighted by a Coast Guard cutter last night 28 miles northwest of the Bay of Chantella, about 50 miles south of where it was battered by high waves while enroute to the Tres Marias penal island colony with soldiers, their wives and children. The department said the survivors had been without food or water for 96 hours. One child died before the rescue. Other survivors were found Sunday on a desolate stretch of beach which they reached by swimming.

A Good Appointment

THE appointment of Bernard Baruch as the United States representative on the UNO atomic energy commission is an excellent selection for this highly important job.

Since the United States has more information about atomic energy than any other nation in the world, including Great Britain and Canada which helped to produce the atomic bomb, it naturally follows that the United States representative on the UNO commission will be the most influential member of the commission.

The purpose of the UNO atomic commission is to find ways and means of making atomic energy work for peace. Even more important, the commission is charged with the responsibility of outlawing atomic explosions in war.

It is not enough for nations to agree that atomic energy will not be used for military purposes. Safeguards must be established to guarantee that there will be no violations of such an agreement.

Just how this will be accomplished is uncertain. It is, in fact, the most difficult problem confronting the commission.

Scientific research into atomic energy is being expanded throughout the world. Some of the research, probably most of it, is designed to find ways to make the atom work for humanity. The rest of the research seeks even more horrifying atomic bombs than those used at Hiroshima and Nagasaki.

Vandalism Rampant

IRON Mountain's hopes of becoming one of the most popular winter sports centers of the Upper Peninsula may not be realized, despite a promising start, because irresponsible persons have no respect for property rights.

Two Iron Mountain men, who invested about $5,000 in constructing and equipping the ski lodge at Pine Mountain, are about ready to wreck the property and use the materials for some other purpose. They are disgusted, and they have reason to be for during the past several days vandals smashed the windows and door of the lodge and caused other damage. The vandalism has aroused the fears of the owner of the expensive ski-tow, who is now seriously considering dismantling and disposing of the equipment.

What pleasure the offenders derive from the destruction of property is a question for learned psychologists to answer. But there appears to be a wave of vandalism all over the country. Street light globes are broken, windows are smashed, and other property defaced with jackknives, chalk and crayons. Apparently, more drastic steps are needed than have been taken in the past to curb this nuisance.

Home Builders Institute

ANNOUNCEMENT that a home builders institute will be organized under the auspices of the adult education school should arouse the interest of almost every family here.

Topics to be discussed at the institute, which will open on April 3, will include home construction and decorating, purchase of materials and the other problems involved in the building and maintenance of dwellings.

It is very true, of course, that building materials are still hard to obtain, but this situation will be remedied eventually. In the meantime, home owners and others who plan to build can go ahead with the making of plans. The institute will provide an ideal medium for the interchange of ideas and the discussion of mutual problems. The course likely will prove to be one of the highlights of this year's adult education program.

Ships and The Seaway

A charge that more than 91 per cent of the American Merchant Marine and 81 per cent of the world's tonnage would be barred from the long-proposed St. Lawrence Seaway, connecting the Atlantic and the Great Lakes, has been made by the American Merchant Marine Institute, a trade association which includes a majority of the American merchant fleet's owners and operators.

In a letter to Sen. Carl Hatch, the Institute claims that only 404 of the 5025 ships built for our merchant fleet since 1939 could pass through the 27-foot channel from Montreal to Lake Ontario when fully loaded. Of those 404, 130 are coastal vessels.

At the same time, the Institute's letter continues, foreign shipping would carry away the bulk of the trade through the waterway, since 72 per cent of the world's merchant ships of 25-foot draft or less are foreign-owned. The letter makes the point that a draft deeper than 25 feet would be unsafe, because a vessel draws six inches more in fresh water than in the denser salt water, because a ship rides lower in motion than at rest, and because there must be some allowance for bottom clearance.

A natural question is: Why not build smaller shallow-draft ships to negotiate the seaway? The Institute's answer is that the construction cost of a smaller vessel is disproportionately high per ton. A small ship requires almost as large a crew as a big one, while carrying about one-third the cargo at one-third the revenue.

With America's high construction and maintenance costs, and high wages and living standards aboard its merchant vessels, our lines must carry bigger cargoes in bigger ships in order to compete with foreign operators.

Fair Dates Set

HAROLD P. Lindsay, newly appointed manager of the Upper Peninsula State Fair, has announced some of the features of the program to be presented during the 1946 revival of the exposition on Aug. 27 to Sept. 1.

Fairgoers are assured an entertainment program that will remind them of the outstanding attractions of the pre-war years. The Barnes-Carruthers organization again has been given the contract to stage the colorful night show in front of the grandstand, and the well-known Jimmie Lynch will return to Escanaba to put on his thrill show on the closing day.

Much of the public interest will also be directed toward the livestock and other agricultural exhibits for it has been some years since the fair has been held here. It will seem like the good old days again to see the barns filled with high grade cattle, horses, poultry and other farm animals. Display tables covered with rows of apples, corn, and other farm produce will add to that familiar state fair atmosphere.

During the coming months, farmers of the Upper Peninsula will be urged to point their efforts toward the state fair. Attractive prizes are offered for winning exhibits, and a good time is assured both rural and urban folks.

Other Editorial Comments

NOT TOO HIGH

(Marquette Mining Journal)

With an increase of approximately $6,000 this year, salaries of teachers in the city's public schools will have been raised more than $39,000 in the last six years.

How do Marquette teachers stand in relation to those in other communities? A recent survey made by Iron county school authorities places Marquette's salaries eighth in the Upper Peninsula, followed by Menominee, Negaunee, Sault Ste. Marie and Stambaugh in that order. The survey has been challenged by some officials and, therefore, is open to question. It seems likely, however, that Marquette is in the middle bracket or, at best in the upper one-third.

More important than the city's exact standing is that substantial progress in boosting salaries, particularly in the lower levels, has been made. That there is room for further improvement there can be no doubt. As in any profession or business, talent commands a price. Communities which are willing to pay the most will get the best teachers.

Operations of the schools is one of the most important and costly functions of the city government. With a large capital investment and an annual budget of more than $350,000, it is big business, in which almost every family is interested. The more active their interest the better. The school board welcomes criticism, particularly constructive criticism.

If there is criticism concerning present salaries, it should be that same may be too low. None, on the face of it, from the superintendent down, is too high.

DECADENT CAPITALISM

(South Bend Tribune)

Socialist Leon Blum will represent the French government in negotiations for a loan of at least $2,000,000,000 from the capitalistic United States. The socialist British government is seeking a larger loan. The communistic government in Moscow is expected to ask for as much as $6,000,000,000. The capitalistic United States, you know, is supposed to be "decadent."

WHAT IS THE ORIGIN?

(Scrapbook Item)

Q. In "Don Quixote" Cervantes writes, "Rejoices the cockles of my heart." In my neck of the woods cockles are burs that stick on you and your dog when you go hunting. Will you please explain?

A. "Cockles of the heart" is a familiar expression with an entirely obscure meaning. There are three "cockles" in English: (1) Cockle, from the Anglo-Saxon coecel, "a weed common in grain fields," spoken of in the Bible as "tare," as in the parable of the tares and the wheat, Matthew 13.

(2) Cockle, a bivalve shellfish. This "cockle" is akin to the French coquille, "shell of a mollusk." Both words come from the Latin conchylium, "a shellfish."

(3) Cockle, a word of uncertain origin, meaning, "a kind of stove; the fire chamber of a stove or furnace."

It is certainly far-fetched imagery to speak of the human heart as having either kind of cockle. There have been various attempts to explain the expression: (a) by a fancied likeness of the heart to a cockle shell; (b) by the fact that the zoological name for the cockle (shellfish) is Cardium, from the Greek kardia, "the heart"; (c) by

World Events Analyzed

BY MARQUIS CHILDS

Washington—Very soon now, the Republican party will have a birthday. The grand old party will be 92 years old.

Humans beings at that advanced age usually have suffered the ravages of senility and decay. But the Republican party is just now looking as coy and hopeful as a debutante waiting past the stag line.

The reason, of course, is the shimmering prospect of party triumph that seems to grow out of Democratic errors long compounded and the general confusion and unrest in the wake of the war.

At the same time that the GOP celebrates its birthday, the men who control the destinies of the party must agree on a new national chairman. The new chairman will direct the congressional campaign on which Republicans are staking so much hope. Even more important, he will set the tone for the party for 1948.

—BID FOR SOUTHERN SUPPORT—
According to all present indications, the choice lies between two members of the House. They both typify the alliance—now formalized in working committee—between Republicans and Southern Democrats.

One is representative Clarence J. Brown of Ohio, an aggressive, hard-driving, old-line Republican. He's never had an unorthodox thought in his life. Or if he has, he's quickly suppressed it.

The key to Brown's role in the House is his position on the rules committee. The rules committee is the No. 1 bottleneck which keeps progressive legislation from a vote.

Brown makes adroit use of the rules committee. When it will most embarrass the Democrats and show up their helplessness and inner division, he gets the Republicans on the committee to go along with the Southern Democrats.

This same coalition functions in the House. Republicans plus Southern Democrats were responsible for defeating the vital provisions in the Veterans' Housing Bill.

The other congressman mentioned for the Republican national chairmanship is representative Carroll Reece of Tennessee. A small-town banker, Reece has a milder temperament than Brown. His record is somewhat less narrowly Republican.

The significant fact is that he comes from Tennessee, a border state with many of the characteristics of the South. It would be an extraordinary departure for the party of Lincoln, McKinley, Theodore Roosevelt and Coolidge to turn to the South for its chairman.

It suggests that a new party alignment may not be impossible—an alignment which would make the party labels mean something.

Today both parties—Republican and Democrat—are just big circus tents that take in everything. That is why, when they come to write a national platform, it invariably is reduced to the lowest common denominator.

—NEW PARTIES FORMING—
By formalizing the Republican-Southern coalition, the GOP has assumed what amounts to public responsibility for legislative action. If Price Control is scuttled by the same coalition and get more inflation, then the Democrats can make a case for putting the blame on the GOP, which is numerically the most important partner in the combine.

On the question of premium payments to stimulate home construction, the House deliberately avoided a record vote. But those who sat in the gallery and checked members as they voted estimate that 130 Republicans and 30 Democrats joined to kill the premium provision. That is one indication of the numerical superiority of the GOP in the combine.

The way is wide open for two new parties, one progressive and one conservative. The voter would have a choice. He would have a reasonable assurance that the label on the package told the truth.

Of course, we have come to use political terms very loosely. Brown and Reece would probably call themselves conservatives. So do the Southern Democrats.

A conservative is one who wants to conserve the system we have today. That does not mean standing in the path of all change. To conserve the essentials of our system—what is truest and most vital—it is necessary to adjust to the great changes that have happened in the world we live in.

Too often our image of a conservative is that of a large, determined individual saying "no!" in a loud voice. We need conservatives who know how to conserve, just as we need progressives who know how to progress.

comparing the chambers of the heart with the fire chamber of a stove or furnace.

Of the three, the last theory appears to be the most logical.

Q. Where did we get the expression, "It's the bunk?"

A. Bunk, meaning humbuggery, exaggerated nonsense, is a shortened form of Buncombe, name of a county in western North Carolina.

The phrase is explained thus in Wheeler's History of North Carolina: "In Congress, a member from Buncombe County arose to address the House, without any extraordinary powers, in manner or matter, to interest the audience. Many members left the hall. Very naively, he told those who remained that they might go too; he should speak for some time, but he was 'only talking for Buncombe'."

Say it with flowers, but say it correctly. My free pamphlet gives correct pronunciations of hundreds of flower and botanical names, a must for flower lovers and garden clubs. Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope to Frank Colby, in care of this paper. Ask for FLOWERS pamphlet.

Aw, C'mon, Joe, Let It Cool Off!

Good Morning!

—By The Bugler—

SO IT'S WIDE OPEN—The Detroit Free Press, an estimable newspaper, for reasons best known to its editors, has "exposed" Escanaba as a "wide open city." In a story written by Kenneth Thompson of the Free Press staff, Escanaba has been described as a place where gambling, drinking, and the sins of the red light district are officially condoned.

Donathan

let's consider what has officially been done to keep the "sinful" element in line, and refute the Free Press charge that state and local law enforcement agencies are closing their eyes while vice rides rampant through the town.

THE CITY COUNCIL—Two years ago the Escanaba city council established as policy, on recommendation of the police chief, that it would not approve applications for liquor licenses where the licensee had been convicted of three major violations of the state liquor laws. If the city council does not approve a license application, the license will not be approved by the liquor control commission.

City police have cooperated fully with the liquor control commission in the investigation of drinking places, have been responsible for a number of complaints against local licensees. These complaints have brought the licensee before the liquor commission for hearing. The police chief as an appointive official is directly responsible to the city manager, who in turn is responsible to the city council.

Shortly after outbreak of the war the city council, on recommendation of the city manager, ordered the closing of the red light district, a "local institution" since the lumberjacks days. One woman, operator of a house who failed to comply fully with the order, was sentenced to the Detroit House of Correction in circuit court.

GAMBLING—Here there is less basis for defense against the Free Press charge that "Slot machines and substantial poker games flourish in three Escanaba clubs and one in nearby Gladstone."

It's true. It is also true that bingo is played in Escanaba under sponsorship of local organization's of war veterans and in a minority of the churches.

The Escanaba city council is cognizant of the situation and belatedly has taken steps to end organized violations of the state gambling laws. The steps are belated because the city council has hesitated at clamping down on a situation which has the tacit approval of two influential groups of our citizenry.

If the city council is to halt gambling in the clubs, it must be consistent and close the bingo games sponsored by the war veterans organizations and the churches.

SLIGHT DISCREPANCY—The Free Press article states that four hotel bars in Escanaba have been closed by the liquor control commission but there are "49 other bar or beer taverns operating—one for every 300 of the town's 15,000 population."

20 Years Ago—1926

Flo Fairbanks, niece of the famous Doug, is trying to become a movie actress. On her graduation from an eastern finishing school she went to Los Angeles, and is now at work on the Fairbanks-Pickford lot.

By simple addition, the Free Press report would have you believe that today we have four places closed and 49 open—a total of 53 licensed bars.

Actually there is a total of 42 bars: 23 liquor, 15 tavern (beer and wine), and four club, liquor licenses.

The correction does not materially change the ratio of bars per capita, but that is a situation which the liquor control commission will correct over a period of years to conform to the new regulation of one hard liquor license for each 1,500 population. Previously one license per 750 population was permissible.

WRONG AGAIN—The Detroit Free Press article also erred in inferring that the ratio of population to licensees is based on beer and wine as well as liquor licenses. The ratio applies only to hard liquor licenses. Therefore the ratio per capita for Escanaba would be one hard liquor license for each 600 population, rather than 300 as reported by the Free Press.

THEY'RE ALARMED—The licensees themselves, through the Delta County Liquor and Beer Vendors Association, are trying to curb the drinking minor who has gotten them into so much trouble. They are asking the Escanaba and Gladstone city councils to adopt an ordinance providing pen-

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

BY DREW PEARSON

Washington.—Ex-Ambassador W. Averell Harriman gilded no lilies in his talk on Russian relations at that hushed-up session of the Senate Foreign Relations committee. He was candid and realistic about the prospects of another war—so candid, in fact, that he had his dignified listeners sitting on the edge of their chairs. "Let's get one thing straight," Harriman told the committee. "Russia does not want war, especially with the United States. However, that doesn't mean that war can be averted."

The big danger, he declared, lay in Russia's over-reaching herself in Iran, Turkey and elsewhere. In other words, Soviet expansion in these areas can't be ignored by the United States and Britain without making a mockery of their prestige and the whole concept of the United Nations.

In the present international "poker game," Stalin controls most of the cards for peace, Harriman told the closed-door session. He could make himself one of the greatest figures in history by asking for another conference of "Big Three" leaders and clearly stating his ideas.

It will be necessary for Russia to clarify to the rest of the world that she doesn't plan to devour the little nations of Europe, Harriman continued. Unless Stalin demonstrates this brand of statesmanship, however, there can be but one result:

Destruction of the United Nations organization and, in time, another war.

The United States has a vital responsibility in its dealings with the Soviet Union, Harriman said, and advised.

"We must be patient, we must be understanding, but we must also be firm."

He expressed the opinion that internal problems in Russia are partly dictating Stalin's actions at the present time. Many different tongues and about 300 dialects are spoken in the Soviet Union. Russia lost between 7,000,000 and 8,000,000 people in the war; her territory was devastated, much of her manufacturing facilities ruined. The problem of welding the country together and keeping down political unrest has its effect on Russian Foreign Policy.

Home-front problems and the necessity of bolstering the morale of the Russian people, however, are only part of the story. Harriman explained. The Russian leader has a very efficient intelligence service which keeps him informed on conditions all over the world.

"Stalin knows that the people of the United States do not want another war," the ex-ambassador told the Senators. Undoubtedly Stalin's intelligence experts have reported this fact to him and it has contributed to Russian bluffing and belligerency.

—NO TRUMAN ROAD—

Folks back in Jackson County, Mo., usually are willing to go the limit for any honor to their native son, Harry Truman. But a recent proposal to change the name of Van Horn road, an important traffic artery named after an early county pioneer, met with a storm of protest. Some of the rural citizens balked at stealing one person's tombstone to honor another.

Van Horn road was named after Col. R. T. Van Horn, who settled in the county in 1855 when Kansas City's population was about 455. He became mayor of Kansas City, was active in Missouri politics, and bought the county's first newspaper, later the Kansas City Journal, now defunct.

The move to honor the President was first suggested by a group of Kansas City Negroes associated with 15th street political factions. They proposed that 15th street in Kansas City be renamed Truman road. Later Mayor Roger T. Sermon of Independence suggested that Van Horn road, which runs from the East City limits of Kansas City to Independence through a five-mile inter-city district, also be renamed in honor of the President. The road runs past the Truman home in Independence.

But businessmen along the road throughout the inter-city district didn't think so much of the idea.

"It's been Van Horn for years," they protested. "Why change now?"

Some recalled the effort by the Chamber of Commerce at Grandview, Mo., home of the President's mother, to build Truman hall, a $25,000 war memorial. The plan was chucked when J. Vivian Truman, the President's brother, said Harry didn't want his name used in the collection of funds for the project.

So finally the proposal was shelved—at least temporarily. Van Horn road will not be Truman road.

Note—the President probably would have frowned on this proposal anyway because of a government appropriation to repair that part of Van Horn road which runs past the Summer White House. Mayor Sermon has announced that Federal and State funds totaling $168,668 have been made available to the city for widening this road which passes the Truman home.

G. I.—VETERANS SERVICE

Q. Where does a veteran write to inquire about non-receipt of war bonds bought while in the Army?

A. To the Army War Bond Office, Central Field Fiscal Office, Building 204, 4300 Goodfellow Boulevard, St. Louis 20, Mo.

Q. What is the amount of the Federal Bonus for World War II?

A. There is no World War II Federal Bonus at this time, but certain proposals are under consideration in Congress.

Q. Where can a veteran get information about travel in the British Isles?

A. Write to The Travel Association of Great Britain and Ireland, 6 Arlington St., St. James, London, S. W. F. England.

OF GENERAL INTEREST

Q. Our bathroom basin always looks soiled, regardless of how much effort I put on trying to clean it. Since we have just bought the house, I don't know what kind of care was given it before. What do you suggest?

A. It would seem that harsh scouring powders have been used on the basin and the enameled surface has been dulled. Replacement is the only remedy, if that is the case.

Q. Is it true that air cannot be seen?

A. Since it is perfectly transparent, air cannot be seen. When we think that we can denote some color in the air, it is not the air we see but minute particles of some other substance. Pure air is a mixture of absolutely colorless gases and therefore has no color.

Q. What causes the characteristic holes in Swiss cheese?

A. They are produced by the liberation of gases generated by bacterial action during the fermentation process.

Hermansville Bank Increases Capital

Hermansville, Mich.—In anticipation of further growth and to meet constantly increasing demands for service, the stockholders of The First National Bank, Hermansville, at a special meeting of stockholders on March 11 approved a recommendation of the directors to increase the bank capital to $50,000.00 from $25,000.00, by the issuance of 250 additional shares and the distribution of those shares to stockholders as a stock dividend.

It was also determined to transfer $25,000.00 from Reserve funds to Surplus funds. The bank thereupon will have capital of $50,000 and surplus of $50,000; also undivided profits and reserves of $10,000, with bank building and furniture and fixtures, originally costing over $30,000, charged down on the books to $100. The necessary approval of the Comptroller of the Currency at Washington, D. C. has been received and the above change authorized and became effective as of March 15.

This increase of capital and surplus to double the previous amounts was deemed advisable because the bank's balance sheet now shows total footings in excess of $1,400,000, total deposits of patrons having more than doubled in recent years.

For many years it has been considered desirable by the National Banking department and by banking authorities to maintain a ratio of capital funds to deposits of approximately 1 to 10. The increase voted will practically establish that ratio. A considerable number of banks throughout the state and nation whose deposits have materially increased, have taken action similar to the action of the local bank, during the past year.

The local bank was organized in the early months of 1921, twenty-five years ago, with a capital of $25,000 and a surplus fund of $5,000 which were considered ample for the business at that time. A bank building was constructed and the bank opened for business on July 21, 1921. The first days business shows deposits of $15,518.21 and total assets of $45,518.21. The organizers were Dr. G. W. Earle, G. Harold Earle, Stewart E. Earle, David Downey, John W. Black, J. H. Woolley, August Wendt and E. E. Allen, all local men excepting Messrs. Black and Woolley. The first officers were Dr. G. W. Earle, President; John W. Black, Vice President; and John H. Woolley, Cashier. Late in 1922 the stock of Black and Woolley was purchased by local men and the bank became a completely home owned institution. Late in 1923 Chris. H. Gribble became a director and was elected Cashier and Manager. Of the original directors, G. H. Earle, S. E. Earle, Dave Downey and E. E. Allen still retain their position on the board, whom with Dr. J. W. Tovey and Chris. H. Gribble constitute the present board of directors. The present officers are: Stewart E. Earle, President; G. Harold Earle, Vice President; Chris. H. Gribble, Executive Vice President and James E. Gribble, Assistant Cashier. Other employees of the bank are Kathryn Rodman, Mary Miketina and Irene Tomasek.

Rammond Mulcahey Speaks At Social Service Meeting

Rammond J. Mulcahey, of the Children's division of the State department of social welfare, Marquette, was the principal speaker at Monday evening's meeting of the Delta County Social Service Exchange. The meeting was held at the Delta County Health department offices in the Webster Annex.

Mr. Mulcahey stressed the following four points:

The licensing of boarding homes. (There are 4,000 children in Michigan in such homes today.) The inspection of summer camps for all children annually. Licensing of maternity homes and adherence to the State laws in these homes. Referral to various other State agencies if such is needed.

Represented at the meeting were members of the Social security board, social welfare department, USES, American Red Cross and the Delta county health department.

Another meeting is scheduled for the near future.

Woodmar Is Name For Vets Village

Houghton — "Woodmar" is the name selected for Michigan Tech's fabricated village located on U. S. 41 across from the athletic field. It was chosen Saturday afternoon out of 43 names submitted by a committee made up of Lee C. McClurkin, H. V. Kivela and John W. Rice.

Mrs. Roman Reinowski, who suggested the name, will receive two pairs of nylon stockings as a prize. Only the wives of veterans residing in Woodmar were eligible to participate in the contest.

Incidentally, Mrs. (Esther) Reinowski lives in a cottage which she calls "Woodmar." Its number is 335. She is well known in the colony and is receiving the congratulations of the "residents."

Garbage Pick-up To Start Monday

The collection of garbage in Escanaba by the public works department will start Monday, with one weekly collection to be made for the rest of the season. It was announced yesterday by City Manager A. V. Aronson.

Seldom does the garbage pick-up begin before April, but because of the unseasonably warm weather it was decided to start as soon as possible.

Should cold weather return, the collections will be temporarily stopped because it will be impossible to empty the containers.

Vandals Cause Much Ski Lodge Damage

Iron Mountain—Irvine Johnson and LaVerne Tripp, who constructed the ski-lodge and supervised the activity at Pine Mountain this winter, met with George Wallner, designer and builder of the ski-tow, to discuss whether, after surveying damage already done by vandals at the hill, they will dismantle their facilities and withdraw from the enterprise. Several factors, they said, will enter into their final decision.

With the snow scarcely melted from the slopes, vandals over the week-end shot several windows out of the ski-lodge, kicked in a door-panel and also shot windows from the shelter at the top of the toboggan run. There has been no damage, so far, at the ski-tow, but Wallner says he is forewarned by Johnson's report.

While unseasonable weather brought losses to the operators of the ski-lodge and ski-tow, this fact would not, of itself, influence their decision, they said. "Weather is always a gamble in ventures of this kind, and certainly no one is to blame for any losses we sustained on account of rain or mild weather," Johnson said this morning. "If weather, alone, were the determining factor, we would go back again next year, hoping for a better break."

CAMP FIRE GIRLS

For the splendid cooperation you have given us in our service to young girls.

For your wholehearted and generous approval of our program.

For the encouragement given us by national statesmen.

For the active interest of state leaders.

For the guidance of community leaders.

For the advice and counsel of clergymen and educators.

For the financial endorsement that has made possible the extension of our service to more girls.

For the cooperation and participation of parents in our programs.

For the precious time volunteered by adults, as leaders in this work among young girls.

For all you have done to give young girls an opportunity to have clean wholesome fun, and an opportunity to give service and learn skills.

For the public buildings, churches, schools, and libraries that have been made available to us for meetings.

For the buildings that have been donated to us by communities.

For the private homes that have been thrown open to our members.

For all those things which we have mentioned, and all those things we have failed to mention, Mr. and Mrs. America, we thank you on our 34th anniversary.

During this week more than 360,000 Camp Fire Girls in America will pay tribute to you for all you have done to encourage the growth of Camp Fire Girls these many years.

Ice Breakup Near, But Shipping To Be Delayed

With weather conditions right for an early opening of navigation at Escanaba and Gladstone, shipping is not expected to start until late because of strikes in the coal and iron mines.

There is much open water in Green Bay, although both Little and Big Bay de Nocs are still locked with ice. Fred Sensiba, Escanaba city airport manager, yesterday reported open water extended beyond vision from a few miles south of Escanaba.

Ice in the bay is deteriorating fast, and fishermen reported that a strong wind from the north would probably clear the local harbor of ice in a short time. All ice fishing has stopped because of the weakened condition of the ice. Fishing is at a standstill, however, until the bay clears and open water fishing starts.

There may be a spring smelt run this year for the first time in several years, fishermen reported. Their prediction was based on catches of several hundreds pounds of the silvery fish just before the ice fishing halted. The run would not start until the streams and rivers are free of ice, probably not before April 1.

Strikes continue in the iron mines of the Upper Peninsula and there is an ample supply of ore reported in stockpile at the smelters. This is expected to mean a later opening of the ore shipping season here. Last year the first ore boat loaded at Escanaba on April 1.

The shipment of coal is also expected to be delayed because of the mine workers strike, except where a critical shortage exists. Such a critical condition has occurred at Sault Ste. Marie's Algoma Steel Corporation mill, and two coal boats, the Shaughnessy and Secord, are scheduled to dock there March 25 with badly needed cargoes of fuel. The steamers are of the Mohawk Steamship company.

Officials of the Reiss Coal company and the Escanaba Coal and Dock company yesterday said they had not yet been informed of any scheduled arrivals, and they expressed the opinion that shipments would not start for another month or so.

Only factor which might bring earlier shipments to Escanaba would be a critical shortage of fuel, and this did not seem likely to occur. The recent warm weather has aided materially in reducing the consumption of fuel.

Meanwhile, in preparation for the opening of shipping, buoys and other aids to navigation are being painted and repaired by the Coast

KEEP ROLLING LONGER

Mr. Motorist—

WE'LL SHOW YOU HOW!

No new cars are coming off the assembly lines these days. Tanks, guns, and planes have the right of way—and your car cannot be replaced. So you've got to make that car last much longer than in the old days. And it can be done! Listen to what the auto experts say . . .

"You can give your car an extra year of lively, youthful performance—if you give it the right service."

SERVICE! It's a magic word and it happens to be our middle name. For here at your Cities Service Station you'll find the right facilities, the famous automotive products, and the indispensable "know-how" that will send your car onto the highway chock-full of new life and energy.

Treat your car to a new lease on life. Drive in to see us . . . today!

CISCO SOLVENT . . . A complete internal bath for your engine. By cleaning out sludge, gum, dirt and varnish, it helps restore youthful pep and power to your car.

CITIES SERVICE PETROLEUM PRODUCTS . . . "Sure-Fire" Kool-motor gasoline, heat-proved Cities Service Koolmotor and Cities Service Motor Oils, Trojan lubricants and other proved Cities Service Products . . . all important factors in the program of youth-giving service for your car.

HERE'S HOW YOU CAN PROFIT BY UNCLE SAM'S EXPERIENCE!

Here's a success story of a famous Cities Service product—CISCO SOLVENT—which should be of great interest to you. For it points the way to better, more efficient performance for your car!

This is how it happened. A small quantity of CISCO SOLVENT was ordered by the Army for experimental use on the trucks and transport vehicles of a military camp in the South. CISCO SOLVENT was put through every conceivable test—and came out with flying colors! Since then, Cities Service has sent more than 12,000 gallons of CISCO SOLVENT to this camp alone.

It cleans the engine internally—gets into every joint and crevice where harmful gum and sludge collect . . . and removes every bit of harmful dirt! The result: new vigor, new pep and power restored to a tired, sluggish motor.

Why not profit by Uncle Sam's experience? Find out what this internal engine cleaner can do to bring new life to your road-weary engine. You'll be amazed at how thoroughly it cleans the engine, the transmission, and the differential—and prolongs the life of all moving parts.

We'll be glad to give you a demonstration of CISCO SOLVENT's remarkable cleansing powers. Drive in to see us . . . today!

Clothes-Repair
Routine Insures
Good Grooming

BY ALICIA HART

Setting aside one evening a week for clothes-repair may sound like taking time out for drab chores. But they pay off in good grooming, and few can escape the chores if the aim is to look consistently your tip-top best.

Not even the Hollywood girls can dodge the nuisance of personal upkeep. But because it's a chore, many of the stars are ingenious at making short cuts. Faith ("Young Widow") Domergue, for instance, mends with an iron when pressed-on tape will make repairs.

For reinforcing and easy-mending of torn lingerie lace, she first starches and irons a lace scrap into place under the tear. After that, mending is a cinch, she says.

Her trick to keep split seams in clothes from breaking out again is to pick up broken threads with a fine steel crochet needle. Picked up, she ties the machine-stitched thread to the one in her needle at both ends of the sewed-up split.

Faith passes on as more time and labor-savers the tricks of sewing on buttons so that they'll hold for good. On blouse fronts and cuffs, she sews baby-sized buttons on the opposite side of top buttons, placed hole for hole. On suit jackets and coats which have shankless buttons, she improvises shanks because, she says, they hold better and prevent friction with fabric. To make a shank, Faith says stick a pin through fabric from the inside, and sew over it and wind thread around it as you attach your button. When you finish, remove pin.

Webster PTA

The Webster Parent-Teacher Association made plans for its coming election of officers and for the rummage sale at the monthly meeting held at the school yesterday afternoon.

Appointed on the nominating committee for the election were Mrs. Michael Farrell, Mrs. Ed Brown and Mrs. M. A. Trams. The rummage sale will be held next month to raise additional funds for the purchase of a movie projector. Supt. John A. Lemmer explained the various projects, and conducted a demonstration with the assistance of Miss Leiper, principal.

The Webster orchestra, directed by Frank Karas, played three numbers.

Peshigo Couple Wed

Announcement was made Monday of the marriage of Adele Ruth Olson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur L. Olson of Peshigo, Wis., to Pfc. William (Bud) Wienke, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Wienke of Peshigo. Manistique River
Now Receding

Danger to the paper mill dam, power installations and the city tramway bridge is believed well past as the water stage on the Manistique River began to recede Tuesday morning.

R. D. Hentschell, of the Manistique Pulp and Paper company, states that observers for the company along the river are of the opinion that snow in the area has disappeared to an extent that precludes any immediate danger of floods and that the crest of the flood for the present passed through Manistique Monday.

The water stage is low compared with spring floods of past years, but the amount of brush and flood producing snags was the heaviest in the past ten years and men have been busy ever since the spring thaw began diverting the floating debris through the spillways leading into the stream alongside of the flume. Last summer's ripraping of the banks of the river at the approach of the tramway bridge, has tended to pass the brush into the main channel safely past the bridge.

Snow has practically disappeared from this vicinity.

EASTER SEAL
SALE BEGINSEffort To Seek Aid
For Crippled
Children

Thursday marks the beginning of the Seal Sale campaign sponsored by the National Society for Crippled Children, the campaign to continue until April 21. Locally the drive is being conducted by the county unit with Mrs. Carl Anderson as the chairman and H. K. Bundy as treasurer.

Funds for this cause are to be derived by the sale of seals, similar to the Christmas seals, the money secured to go to the assistance of physically handicapped, rendering assistance in providing medical care, training, wheel chairs, crutches and, most important of all helping them to become useful and competent members of society able to make a living despite their handicaps.

A certain per cent of the funds secured locally will remain in the county to be used in emergency or for the promoting of some cause for the betterment of the handicapped. Last year the county's share was $190.

In view of the fact that the campaign will be brought to a close on Easter Sunday, the stamps bear the name of "Easter Seals" and, according to the sponsors, are definitely in keeping with that which comes under the head of Christian charity.

This being the twenty-fifth anniversary of the effort, the quarter century of worthy service is being emphasized at this time.

Jan's Party
Jan LeDuc, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. LeDuc, entertained several friends Saturday afternoon, the occasion being his sixth birthday anniversary.

The group attended the matinee after which they returned to the LeDuc home where a 5 o'clock supper was served. A large birthday cake on a musical platter centered the decorated table. Each guest received a clay pipe as a favor.

Jan received many lovely gifts from the following friends: Billy Norton, Mary Ann Kelly, Joan Creighton, Judy Slining, David Trieger, Skippy and Margaret Corson, John Williams, Pierre LeBrasseur and Michael LeDuc.

Bridge Dinner
Mrs. J. L. LeDuc entertained a number of guests Thursday evening at a 6:30 o'clock dinner at Blaney Park.

Five tables of bridge were in play with honors going to Mrs. Robert Dean, high, Mrs. Omer Schuster, second, and Mrs. Earl LeBrasseur, third.

Table decorations were in the St. Patrick's Day motif. Each guest received as a favor a shamrock plant.

SKI CLUB HAS
REORGANIZEDElects Officers And
Will Have By-Laws
And Constitution

The Manistique Ski Club, which long has operated on the haphazard basis of a membership made up solely of a few youths interested in skiing, is now a well established organization operating under a constitution and set of by-laws and is being directed by a board of directors made up of the club's officers and three directors.

This was brought about at a recent meeting of the ski club, held at the Manistique Youth Center. Officers elected were Art Allen, president; Howard Graff, vice president; and LeRoy Fox, secretary-treasurer. Russell Watson was elected trustee for a one-year term; Russell Fagan for two years, and Carl Vezina, three years.

While the by-laws and constitution have not as yet been formally adopted, they have been drawn up and are in force subject to a few changes to be made at a meeting to be held at the youth center Friday night.

The ski club starts with a membership of 22. New members will be welcomed into the organization, but those who wish to join must apply in writing. A membership fee of $1 per year will be charged for each member.

New rules applying to use of the slide have been adopted making it necessary for any rider to obtain a permit to use the slide before attempting to try his skill. Riders will also be required to use skis of a substantial sort, light skis of pine being strictly ruled out.

The hill will be enlarged and the ski slide will be repaired if timber is available. A new slide for beginners will also be built.

Action was also taken at the meeting to bring about the club's affiliation with the Central U. S. Ski Association. Through this affiliation official tournaments can be held, members of the club will be able to participate in official meets anywhere in the country. The local club will also have, when needed, the services of association officials.

As an entertainment feature at Friday's meeting, Dr. N. L. Lindquist presented movies of ski tournaments held here the past few years.

First Baptist Has
Attendance Drive

A "Fill the Church" campaign is being conducted at the First Baptist church and the results of the first Sunday since the effort went into effect has been very successful, the Rev. J. D. B. Adams reports. A large crowd attended the morning worship and attendance at the Sunday school lacked seventeen of being double what it was the first Sunday Rev. Adams began his pastorate here. Attendance in the evening was also more than twice what it has been of late. At this time the BYP had charge of the services.

The campaign will continue through to Easter.

WILL DISCUSS
FARM CREDITMeeting Tonight Called To Acquaint Public
With Problem

Agricultural credit, particularly that phase of the problem affecting the returning veteran, will be discussed at a meeting called by Clayton D. Reid, local Farm Security Administration supervisor, to be held at the court house this evening at 7:30 o'clock.

"The problem of agricultural credit is always a difficult and complicated one," says Mr. Reid, adding, "And it is even more complicated now with many veterans returning to civilian life and wanting to get started in farming."

"This problem, of course, affects the farmer primarily and his efforts to finance his farm, machinery, livestock and operating expenses. However, everyone in this community is affected by the farmers' ability to finance his program."

The meeting, Mr. Reid says, is for the purpose of acquainting the people of the community — businessmen, bankers and clergymen — with the problems affecting agricultural credit and the types of loans available to both farmers and returning veterans.

Napalm To Be Used
For Liquid Soap

Washington — Napalm, that spelled death and destruction as an incendiary ingredient in war-time flame-throwers, will soon be used by the Army as a G-I liquid soap.

Within a few months, the War Department states, 50,000 gallons of a new quick-suds soap made of napalm will be available for everything from scrubbing barracks floors to G-I shampoos.

The new soap can be made by plants that turned out the flame-thrower material without any additional equipment and by using little more labor, it was reported.

Napalm is also reported to have a limited use in some hospital applications.

Wire Fencing Life
Research Subject

Ithaca, N. Y.—Wire fencing for the lawn, chicken yard or cattle pasture has short or long life, depending upon certain factors now better understood as a result of extended testing conducted by the American Society for Testing Materials. The tests were started here 10 years ago, and also at nine other widely distributed stations under state agricultural colleges where various atmospheric conditions exist, and have already produced information of value to farmers and other users of wire fencing. The material and size of the wire, its protective coating and atmospheric conditions are all important.

The type of testing is by exposure. At each of the 10 sites, a total of 969 samples of wire were strung on parallel lines close to each other. The samples include woven-wire fencing, barbed wire, standard cable, link fence, and unfabricated wire. They include zinc-coated or galvanized wire, uncoated copper-bearing steel wire, or corrosion-resistant steel wire, or the so-called stainless steel wire, copper-covered wire, and lead-coated wire. A set of the samples was furnished the National Bureau of Standards for complete chemical and physical analysis.

Mint was known and used by Hippocrates, the father of medicine, in the fifth century B. C.

Outdoor Activities
Course for Leaders
To Be Started Today

The opening session of a series in an outdoor activities course for Girl Scout leaders and other interested adults will be held at 1204 Lake Shore Drive this afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Mrs. O. S. Hult will conduct the course which will comprise five 2 hour sessions.

The course will cover the work that a leader might do with her troop in nature study, hikes, cookouts and campcraft.

The course is something that every Girl Scout leader, regardless of type of troop led, needs, and may be of interest to adults, not leaders, who wish to assist in Girl Scout work.

FISH NETS GO
UP IN SMOKEGrass Fire Ignites Some Of George Holmberg
Equipment

Several valuable nets owned by George Holmberg, local commercial fisherman, were destroyed by fire Sunday afternoon near the shore not far from the sewage treatment plant on Minneapolis avenue.

The nets had been cleaned and freshly tarred by Holmberg in preparation for use. They were ignited, it is believed, by a grass fire which swept an area near Fourth and Minneapolis.

The Gladstone fire department was called but could do little to prevent the spread of the fire. The loss was believed between $400 and $500.

Working on the theory that the grass fire was set a number of youths were questioned at the junior high school yesterday in connection with the case but Chief of Police Torvald Kallerson said later he was convinced that the boys questioned had nothing to do with the case.

City Briefs

Irving Johns, music supervisor in the Gladstone Public schools, is expected to return to Gladstone today after having been confined to his home at Nogaunee for several days by illness.

Lt. and Mrs. Roland L. Stromborg of St. Cloud, Minn., are guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Ohman. Lt. Stromborg was recently discharged from service at Camp McCoy, Wis.

Mrs. Ida Williamson returned yesterday morning from Tracy, Minn., where she visited for the past several months with relatives.

Mrs. James Peterson and infant daughter, Diane Louise, have been released from St. Francis hospital and have returned to Gladstone.

T/S Norbert Johnson is on his way home from Austria where he has been stationed, according to word received by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Johnson, 1420 Dakota avenue. Recently Norbert phoned his parents from Rome while on leave. He has been in service a little more than 2½ years and has been overseas for the past year.

Mr. and Mrs. Fritz Frank are returning today to St. Cloud, Minn., after visiting here and in Rapid River with relatives. Their daughter who has been visiting with the Hilding Norstroms will return with them.

Eskymos Travel To Ironwood Today For U. P. Tournament

LOCALS PLAY ON THURSDAY

Ten Players Accompanying Coach, Student Manager

The Escanaba high school basketball team will leave for Ironwood this afternoon from the senior high school at 1:15 to compete against the Ironwood Red Devils Thursday evening in the opening round of the Class B upper Peninsula basketball tournament.

Because of the distance involved and the importance of the Thursday evening game with the potent Red Devils, the Escanaba high school officials elected to send the Eskymos to Ironwood today rather than tomorrow. This will permit the local players to have a good rest prior to their game Thursday night. The players probably will stay at the Curry hotel in Ironwood.

Players making the trip are Don Scott, James Ross, Don Ohman, Bob Dufour, Jack Finn, Roy Finn, Dick Lough, Roger Peterson, John Besson and Jack Schils, in addition to Coach Jim Rouman and Student Manager Junior Paul.

The Eskymos will remain in Ironwood for other tournament sessions, whether they win in the opening round against Ironwood or not. They will return to Escanaba Sunday.

Basketball Club To Be Formed Here

All basketball players and managers of city league teams have been invited to meet Monday evening at eight o'clock at the city hall council chambers to organize an Escanaba Basketball association.

Jefferson Takes City Grade School Basketball Title

The Jefferson grade school teams (A) and (B) won the Escanaba city grade school basketball championship by scoring the most points for victories during the season's play and later winning the concluding tournaments held in each class.

Classes were chosen according to grade, size, and age.

The season records were:

Class (A)	Won	Lost
Jefferson	10	0
Franklin	4	4
Webster	3	2
Washington	1	7

Class (B)

Won	Lost
Jefferson	3	4
Barr	6	1
Franklin	1	0
Webster	0	2
Washington	0	4

Tournament play was as follows: Class (A) the Washington five beat the Franklin quintet 14-9 and Webster school took Barr school 10-6; the Jefferson then took Washington 19-10 and won the Class (A) championship by scoring over the Webster cagers, 31-10.

In Class (B) the Jefferson five won over Barr 6-3 to take the championship with the one game, the other Class (B) teams not playing.

Coach Jim Rouman was assisted on Saturday morning by Dick Lougle, Jim Deane and Jim Hirm in conducting the program.

Plans for the local tournament will be made at this session.

BOXERS TRAIN AT SENIOR HIGH

Fighters Will Meet At Local Gymnasium Tonight

Boxers who are interested in participating in the Manistique boxing program on Monday, April 8, are asked to report at the Escanaba senior high school gymnasium this evening at 7:15 o'clock for training.

The local boxers will work out Wednesday and Friday nights each week at the senior high school gymnasium and on Tuesday nights at the city recreation center.

The Manistique matches are not restricted to fighters who competed in the Golden Gloves tournament here, although a number of the Golden Gloves entrants are planning to compete at Manistique. Any boxers desiring to fight at Manistique are requested to report at the senior high school gymnasium tonight. In general entrants are required to be 16 years of age or older.

Boxers competing at Manistique will fight only one match and they will be paired with opponents of equal weight, experience and talent.

Chet Johnson, well known Escanaba boxer, will be in charge of the Escanaba fighters.

Stirnweiss Shift To Third Sacker

Is Rated Success

BY JACK HAND

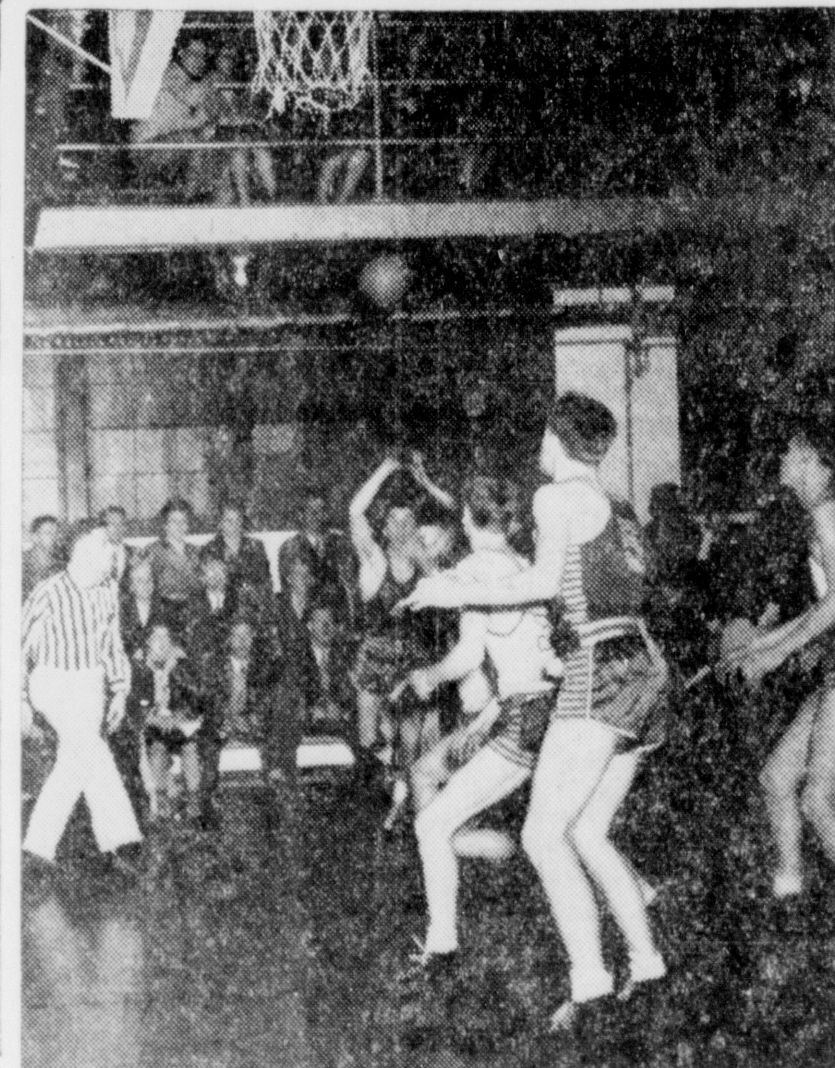

St. Petersburg, Fla., March 19 (P)—Reconversion of George Stirnweiss, the 1945 American league batting champ, from a second baseman into a third sacker can be rated a success thanks to the patient work of Coach Red Rolfe of the New York Yankees.

When Joe Gordon, Phil Rizzuto and other stars came marching home from war, Stirnweiss' fate puzzled the experts. What was Manager Joe McCarthy going to do with his best hitter and prize base stealer? Was Stirnweiss just another wartime ball player to be shelved when the regulars returned? It seems Marse Joe knew the answer all the time.

As soon as Stirnweiss ended his holdout siege and joined the Yankees on their return from Panama, McCarthy sent George to the hot corner and asked the veteran Rolfe to help him out.

Rolfe's theory on third basing, also seconded by such experienced hand as Manager Ossie Pluege of Washington, is that the most important single requirement is an ability to move quickly.

"Only thing that bothers me is the throw," Stirnweiss said. "Playing second base for so long, I got the habit of snapping that throw to first as soon as I get the ball. Over at third the balls come at you so fast that you get them before the first baseman can scramble back to the bag. I just have to remember not to hurry. Then, of course, those slow hit balls give you trouble too. Red is helping me plenty."

GOOD TOSS—John Ersamer, nimble guard of Norway high, has just let a two-hander from the sidelines that cut the net for a field goal in a game which gave Norway a 53-39 victory over Gladstone high and the Class C District championship in the tournament finale at Gladstone Saturday night. The player guarding Ersamer is almost hidden from view by Tom Olson, Brave forward, and Milton Ahlrad (5), Norway forward. Harry Olive of Braves is at extreme right.

The Sports Parade

By Ken Gunderman

The Escanaba high school basketball championship. That was 27 years ago at Ishpeming, when Escanaba defeated Negaunee, 54 to 45, in the finals. That year the Escanaba team won 12 games while losing five. The best record turned in by any EHS team, as far as total victories and high scoring figures are concerned, however, was the 1941-42 team which won 14 consecutive games during the regular season, added two more victories to win the district championship and then lost to Iron River, 35 to 33, in the opening round of the finals tournament. That team scored a total of 639 points for an average of 37.56 points per game against 360 for its opponents, an average of 21.2.

According to the compilations, Escanaba has played Ironwood twice in tournament competition, never during the pre-tournament seasons, with the teams each winning once. Actually, Ironwood and Escanaba have met in at least three tournament games, with Ironwood winning twice. In the tournament of 1925-26 at Marquette, Escanaba lost to Ironwood, 16-14, after leading throughout the game. This score is not included in the basketball records compiled this week at the Escanaba high school. In the 1924 tournament, Escanaba defeated Ironwood, 19 to 6, and in the 1922 tournament, Ironwood defeated Escanaba, 15 to 13.

TIGERS STRONG FOR GREENBERG

Aging First Baseman Is Team's Top Hitter, Says Manager

BY FRANK KENESSON

Lakeland, Fla., March 19 (P)—The 1946 Detroit Tigers, defending champions of the American League, may come up with a couple of weak spots, but first base—where Big Hank Greenberg will be stretching his aging arms and legs—won't be one of them in the opinion of Manager Steve O'Neill.

"Don't worry about Hank; he'll have a good year over there. That's certainly not one of the 'headache' spots in our lineup as far as I'm concerned," O'Neill said as Greenberg scooped a low throw out of the dirt in an exhibition game with all the grace of the Hank of 1939, his last season in the infield before moving to the outer garden to yield his first base job to Rudy York.

Somebody pointed out to Steve that Greenberg, at 35 years of age, will watch a lot of ground balls scooped past him into right field that a younger first baseman would be able to handle.

"That's all right with me," O'Neill replied. "It's a sure thing the big fellow will knock in 10 times as many runs as he lets in." Greenberg, playing 78 games for the 1945 Tigers following his discharge after four years away from baseball in the army, batted .311 and belted 13 home runs and 20 doubles for a fat slugging average of .544.

He will continue to hit "clean" in a Tiger batting order bolstered by such hitters as Dick Wakefield, Barney McCosky and Pat Mullin in the outfield and Pinky Higgins in the infield.

While Wakefield, McCosky and Mullin came to the Tigers' Lakeland camp as the "Big Three" of the outfield, one of them may be chased out of the regular lineup by Rookie Walter (Hoot) Evers, who in the early stages of training has been the hitting and fielding star of the Detroit camp. Evers, who had a banner season at Beaumont in 1942, was sensational in three years of service league ball at Waco (Texas) Army Air Base during the war, batting .452 a year ago.

Such dependable performers as Doc Cramer, Roy Cullenbine and Jim Outlaw back up the top Tiger outfield quartet while Greenberg, Eddie Mayo, Eddie Lake and Pinky Higgins stack up as the "regular" 1946 infield with Skeeter Webb and Bill Hitchcock in reserve.

The Tigers have three first class catchers in George (Birdie) Tebbetts, Paul Richards and Bob Swift and at least eight hurlers of starting quality, including Hal Newhouser and Paul (Dizzy) Trout, each seeking to become a 20-game winner for the third time.

Back of Newhouser and Trout are such pitching standouts as Virgil (Fire) Trucks of the zipping fast ball, Al Benton, Les Mueller and Frank (Stubby) Overmire from the Tigers' world series champs of 1945; the dependable Tommy Bridges, striving to boost his American league victory total to 200 games; Ruffus Gentry, who won a dozen games in 1944 but held out all last year for more pay, and several first class service discharges—Freddie Hutchinson, Hal White, Hal Manders and Rookie Louis Kretlow.

For quantity in the pitching corps there's still relief huler George Caster and the two 19-year-old Detroit sandlot products, Artie Houtteman and Bill Pierce.

Hunting And Fishing

By Sid Gordon

HATRED IS A GOOD THING
Hatred is a good thing for fishermen. Some people get a great deal out of life by hating everything and everybody. They hate the other fellow's religion, his politics and go so far as to carry it to a hatred of his wife and children. All foreign countries and all foreigners are hated, as well.

This is a good thing for the person who sees it. It keeps their stomachs all upset, gives them high blood pressure, heart trouble and a rattling brain. The Lord seems to punish them by really giving them something to hate and that is themselves.

I presume we all have some of the "hate" stuff in us and have to stop every once in awhile and take stock of ourselves. Then we give ourselves the very dickens (Dickens, the author, was a good hater), realize how foolish we are and quit hating for a time.

But the fellow who hates fishing and fishermen is the man I like. You will not find one of them on the lake or river. With the airplanes now added to trains and cars and outboard motors to rowboats for transportation, how tough would be if everyone loved fishing.

Last evening I sat down at the fly tying bench for an hour. I had been thinking of a clear spring pond way up north. I closed my eyes and remembered every leaning cedar over a little inlet of water which was 44 degrees Fahrenheit, almost ice cold.

I could see the trout which altered their ways there on a hot day in July. Dozens of them would "hang" in the cooled depths of the hole which received the cooling waters of that inlet. A No. 14 hook tied as a mayfly nymph took many a trout for me in that spot.

After I had wound the dusty yellow yarn on the 2x stout hook wrapped a fine tinsel on the body and built up the wing cases of the nymph, I wound two turns of the very shortest and softest hen hackle at the eye.

When the dozen nymph flies were completed, I heaved a sigh and made a wish. I wished that, when I sneak into that pond this summer, everyone hated fish and fishermen. How terrible it would be to find another good fisherman on water I had planned, all winter, spring and part of the summer, to fish. I wonder what it would do to my already weak stomach, high blood pressure and overstrained heart.

If anything should happen, I hope they bury me right there. Then my ghost could haunt the place and scare the daylight out of every fisherman. At long last I would have one good spring hold all to myself, something which I have never had all my life long.

Skinny Star Makes Dribble Loons Yell

BY TED MEIER

New York, March 19 (P)—Thimble-sized Ernie Calverley has won New York's basketball fanatics with one of the game's most fascinating cinderella stories.

And if the skinny Rhode Island State star leads the New England Rams to victory over Kentucky in tomorrow night's final of the National Invitation tournament the shrieks of the dribble loons probably will shake the rafters at Madison Square Garden.

The last team picked in the eight-team tournament field, the Rhodians were given scant chance of surviving their first round game against Bowling Green's towering Don Otten and company.

But the wagging fraternity, which established the Rhodians as 12-point favorites, reckoned without Calverley. His keen floor generalship, his bullet-like passes, his feints, his elusive dribbling and accurate shooting built up a terrific climax—his 55-foot shot in the last two seconds that tied the score at 74-74 and led to the Rams' 82-79 overtime triumph.

Against Muhlenberg in the semi-finals last night the Rams were five-point underdogs, but again Ernie demonstrated he deserves to rank with the best players. He tossed in 27 points as the Rams romped home, 59-49. One of his 11 baskets was a 40-footer.

McHALE TO BUFFALO

Lakeland, Fla., March 19 (P)—The Detroit Tigers today sent First Baseman Johnny McHale to Buffalo, of the International League, on 24-hour option. McHale, who hit .22 home runs for Buffalo last season, left immediately for Winter Haven, where the minor league club is training.

WORLD'S TREASURE SPOT

Cocos Island, in the Pacific, is believed by many to be the richest treasure spot in the world. Value of its store of hidden gold, silver, and jewels has been estimated at $60,000,000 by the British foreign office and consists of the hoarded loot of pirates for centuries past. Treasure hunters, however, have found nothing in the course of their diggings.

NINTH INNING BEATS TIGERS

Clearwater, Fla., March 19 (P)—Although outbait 11 to nine, the Cleveland Indians punched across the winning run in the ninth inning here today for a 6 to 5 exhibition game triumph over the Detroit Tigers, the Tribe's third Florida victory over Detroit in three games.

With Pat Mullin back at his right field post for the first time since he pulled a muscle in his leg 10 days ago, the Tigers fell behind 4-0 when Cleveland Third Baseman Bob Lemon and Outfielder Clarence (Soup) Campbell both hoisted homers over the short right field screen in the opening inning off Rookie Lou Kretlow.

Before the hitfest was over Dick Wakefield and Mullin of the Tigers also belted homers out of the park. Mullin's tying the score in the ninth. In addition, Wakefield, Murray Franklin and Jim Outlaw had two-baggers as every Tiger in the lineup except Ned Harris and Hal White hit safely.

White, who gave three hits and one run in the last four innings, was the losing pitcher. Kretlow yielded six hits in the first five frames, topping his performance by fanning Cliff Mages and Ray Mack and getting Jack Conway on a pop-up after the Indians had filled the bases in the fifth with nobody out.

The defeat was Detroit's ninth in a dozen exhibition games this spring.

28 APPLY FOR MANAGER JOB

Marquette Has Vacancy With Resignation Of Garber

Marquette — Mayor James J. Beckman revealed at a city commission meeting last night that the city has received letters from 28 applicants for the post of general manager to succeed Stephen L. Garber, whose resignation was accepted by the commission Jan. 7.

The city is considering two alternatives. The first is to engage a man qualified to take over general supervision of all city departments, possibly with the title of city manager. The second is to engage a man qualified particularly to assume only the job of superintendent of public works, a post now held temporarily by Carl Anderson, who has expressed a wish to be relieved of it.

Salary requirements may affect the final choice.

Out of the group of 28 applicants, the mayor named three whom he considered having the highest qualifications, and he was given authority by the commission to invite them to come to Marquette for interviews.

Col. James R. Pollock, Chicago, who formerly served as city manager or director of public works at Flint and Pontiac, and whose release from the army will be effective April 1.

Clarence H. Hoper, for 10 years city manager at Alliance, Neb.

James A. Clulo, city engineer at Norway, and a former Marquette resident.

Former Manager Garber served as secretary of the Escanaba Chamber of Commerce for several months, resigning his Escanaba position to come to Marquette. He is now affiliated with an industrial concern in Marquette.

Cubbing Program Begun In Nahma

The first training session of parents and prospective Cubbing leaders was held in Nahma, Monday evening, in preparation toward the organization of a Cub Pack. Those in attendance were: Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Blowers, Mr. and Mrs. John Zimmerman, Mr. and Mrs. Al Hescott, Mr. and Mrs. James Roddy, Mesdames Jake Todish, Mike Washet, Reginald Hebert, Herman Bramer, Amos Ritter, and Messers Fred Poupour and Allen Mercier.

The training session consisted of the fundamentals of the Cubbing program, based on the sponsoring of a Cub Pack, the training of its leaders, and general information concerning the carrying out of the Cubbing program in the homes of the prospective Cubs, which are to be enrolled. A motion picture was also shown under the sponsorship of the Hiawatha-Land Council as part of the training session. The film consisted of three reels, based on the Cub in the Home, in the Den, and in the Pack. Each part had a direct bearing on specific operation of a Cub Pack.

This is the second step in forming the entire Scouting family in Nahma, the village has a well operating Scout Troop, which was organized about a year ago, and has proved itself in Scouting during that time, under the able direction of James Roddy and Al Hescott. The furtherance of the Cubbing program will in time assist the present troop by additional members graduating from Cubbing into Scouting.

The next session of the person-

Beard Of Swedish King Dead For 400 Years Is Studied

Stockholm — The bushy red whiskers of King Gustaf Vasa, warrior king who founded modern Sweden, have been found intact in his tomb in Upsala Cathedral, although nothing else remained of him but his bones.

The skeleton was still wrapped in grave-clothes embroidered with royal crowns and other objects. The skull rests on a velvet pillow and the hands are crossed over the breast. On one side lie the royal crown of gold and the royal scepter; on the other side lies his sword with a beautifully tooled and inlaid hilt.

The scientists decided from the X-rays taken that the king was hard of hearing in one ear, and that his jaw was infected, probably from an ulcerated tooth. Remains of his three wives in the same cathedral will be examined later.

nel is scheduled to be held soon, at which time, the operation of the Pack will be developed further.

Wiltzius, Jr., and Esther May Reidell of Marinette; Floyd Lundberg of Ensign and Bernice Caswell of Rapid River.

Held In Jail — William D. Little, 32, of the Chemical Plant location, yesterday was held in jail in Escanaba for U. S. Army authorities from Milwaukee, who requested his arrest on a charge of being absent without leave. Sheriff William E. Miron said that Couillard has been taken in custody three times previously since last July at the request of the Army.

MOSTLY WATER

Half of Holland's area consists of artificially drained and reinforced marshes. The land is traversed at regular intervals by a wide canal. Windmills pump the water from these canals to other canals of higher levels, and through these the water runs to the sea.
